

Degree Programs in Comprehensive Human Sciences

<Doctoral Program in Public Health>

| Field of Research | Faculty | Detailed Description of Research Field |
|-------------------|-----------------------|--|
| Public Health | ICHIKAWA Masao | Evaluation of injury prevention interventions; Mobility, transport, and health among older adults; Global health research |
| | ITO Tomoko | Long-term care insurance system, Community health care, Nursing, Health policy; Big data research using national statistics or medical care claim data |
| | IWAGAMI Masao | Epidemiology, Clinical Epidemiology, Pharmacoepidemiology, Genetic Epidemiology, Digital Health, Real World Data, Biobanks, Genomics, Omics, Machine Learning |
| | OKURA Tomohiro | Prevention of lifestyle-related diseases, Preventive nursing care of elderly (falling, dementia), Innovation of exercise program |
| | OGAI Yasukazu | Clinical social psychology, Psychological assessment, Risk of recurrence of drug and alcohol addiction, Perfectionism and mental health |
| | OMI Naomi | Exercise, Sports, diet and nutrition, Bone metabolism and nutrition and exercise, Nutritional assessment, Dietary education |
| | KATAOKA Chie | School Health, School health education, Health academic achievement, Health class analysis, Development of teaching materials, Prevention of youth risk behavior |
| | KAWANO Yoshiyuki | Clinical psychology, People with dementia, Dementia and society, Dementia friendly community, SOGI/LGBT, Diversity and inclusion |
| | KONDO Masahide | Application of economics to health care policy, Economic analysis of chronic disease, Health financing in developing countries |
| | × TAKEDA Fumi | Community Health, Occupational Health, Occupational stress, Sense of coherence, Mental and physical health and psychosocial factors of women, children, elderly and workers |
| | × TAMIYA Nanako | Institutional/facility care and home care for the elderly and disabled, Quality assessment and evaluation of medical care and long-term care, International comparison of health and welfare policies, Health service research |
| | TSUJI Taishi | Exercise/sports epidemiology, Measures for exercise/sports inequality, Community-building for prevention of functional disabilities |
| | NAKATA Yoshio | Exercise epidemiology, Occupational health, Intervention study, Translational research, Dissemination and implementation science |
| | HASHIZUME Yumi | Family support for aging people in need of nursing care (health promotion for female employed caregivers), Toyama-Style day care service in Mongolia, Support for transnational caregivers, Research on physical & occupational therapies, Qualitative research method |
| | × HAMAGUCHI Yoshikazu | Developmental Clinical psychology, Bullying, Aggression, Assertiveness, social skills, Prosocial behaviour, Social Information Processing, Parenting behaviour, Parent Training, Social problem solving, Play therapy, Support for truancy, Psychological clinical practice of selective mute children |
| | HORI Ai | Industrial health, Occupational cohort research, Cancer epidemiology, Nutritional epidemiology, Prevention of infectious diseases through vaccination, Prevention of lifestyle-related diseases, Exposure of medical professionals to anti-cancer drugs |

| | | |
|--|------------------|---|
| | MATSUDA Yuko | Developmental clinical psychology, Mental health of workers, Career development, Stress, Professionals, Parent Training, Support for childcare workers |
| | MIZUNO Masashi | Developmental clinical psychology, Public mental health, College students' mental health, Mental health in the workplace, Stigma |
| | MIYAWAKI Atsushi | Policy research and policy evaluation using electronic medical records and health insurance claims; Quality and equity of healthcare and underlying structural determinants; Physicians' clinical patterns, behavior, and work-life balance; Social determinants of health. |
| | MURAKI Isao | Cohort study, Cardiovascular epidemiology, Nutritional epidemiology, Real-world data analysis, Health policy research, Tobacco control, Cancer screening |
| | MORITA Nobuaki | Research on the factors investigation on addiction and intervention and assistance to addicted subjects, Prevention strategy for child abuse and the victims of domestic violence, and the mental therapy for trauma |
| | MONMA Takafumi | Community Health, Occupational Health, Stress, Mental and physical health of women, children, elderly, workers, and athletes, Lifestyle habits, Sleep quality and psychosocial factors |
| | YOSHIDA Satomi | Life course epidemiology, Medical database research, Pharmacoepidemiology, Clinical epidemiology, Health services research |
| | WATANABE Taeko | Health service research, Government statistics and claims data analysis, Informal caregivers, Quality assessment and evaluation of medical care and long-term care |

[Cooperative Graduate School]

| | | |
|---------------|----------------------------|--|
| Public Health | × USHIYAMA Akira (NIPH) | Environmental health and sciences, Environmental physiology, Environmental risk science, Microcirculatory physiology, Animal experimental science, Tobacco and health, Electromagnetic environment (radio waves and electromagnetic waves) and health, Effects of low dose radiation |
| | KAWADO Miyuki (NIPH) | Health statistics and secondary use, Healthy life expectancy, Cohort studies and clinical epidemiology, Databases and epidemiological analysis |
| | TOMIO Jun (NIPH) | Health emergency management, Disaster medicine and public health, Emergency risk communication |

(Note)

The faculty member marked with × will not recruit students.

Applicants who desired faculty members of the Cooperative Graduate School as a main academic advisor have to contact Prof. ICHIKAWA in advance of the application. E-mail: masao@md.tsukuba.ac.jp

(NIPH) National Institute of Public Health

April 2025